MEN AND BABY ALSO FACE DEATH IN TOMB

Camps Riddled with Bullets in Day's Battle—Plea to Wilson for Troops.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.)
Trinidad, Col., April 22.—J. W. Siple, president of the Southwestern Fuel Company, his superintendent, chief engineer, fifteen non-union miners, five women and a baby are trapped and held prisoners in the flaming shaft house of the Empire mine, near Aguilar, by armed strikers, according to reports which reached Trinidad to-night. Hope for the life of any of the party, except possibly the women and the child, has been abandoned.

Three mine guards are known to be dead, while hundreds of thousands of dollars in property damage has been done as a result of continuous fighting which raged through the Ludlow strike district to-day.

Two mine shafts of the Broadhead and Royal, both independent companies, are in ashes. At 8:20 o'clock to-night H. B. King, one of the owners, sent word by telephone from the Empire mine that the attacking party was throwing dynamite into the slope, where between twenty and thirty men, women and children are said to have taken refuge.

Facing the certainty that the fighting will be renewed to-morrow, Mayor Dunleavy of Trinidad, members of the Council and the Chamber of Commerce, by telegrams to Washington to-night, asked President Wilson for federal troops.

Around the storm centres of the fight—Delagua, the Black Hills and the canyons near Aguilar—strikers' lines, constantly reinforced, are steadily drawn tighter as the workers, incensed at the discovery that many of their dead in the ruins of the Ludlow tent colony had disappeared, pursued their programme of vengeance.

What became of the bodies is a mystery. The strikers say the bodies have been destroyed with dynamite and otherwise disposed of by the militia. To support this, they point out that rapid fire guns in the hands of soldiers have prevented the entrance of any one to the former site of the ruined tent colony until late to-day.

John R. Lawson to-day to-night that he and the others heard dynamite explosions all this forenoon.

According to Major Hamrock, in command of the state troops, the charred debris which covers the site of the camp has remained undisturbed since the fire of Monday night. Fifteen bodies, thirteen women and two children, are known to have been in one spot, while it is supposed that further investigation would have disclosed many more in the safety pits similar to that in which the original thirteen were discovered.

The coal camps at Delagua and Hastings were burned to the ground to-day. At Delagua 400 armed strikers fired upon the tents. A woman and two children were killed. These, with the thirteen known dead at Ludlow and the three guards killed at Guller, bring the total up to thirty-nine.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is said by the union to be responsible for the present trouble because of his statement before the Congress committee.

At a meeting in Denver this afternoon of the Woman's Peace Association, composed of Denver's "38" and other public spirited women, Mrs. Mary C. C. Bradford said:

"While Colorado is disgracing herself in the eyes of the world the man who is responsible for this disgrace sits in his office in New York City. He is John D. Rockefeller, Jr. His statements before the Congressional committee not only emboldened the weak and criminally disposed soldiers of the state, but they caused the miners to arm for war to the death because they realized what his remarks would bring forth."

The bodies of eleven children, two women and one man were found late to-day in and about the ruins of the Ludlow tent colony by a Red Cross searching party.

[From The Tribune Bureau.]
Washington, April 22.—The air of depression which prevailed in the Senate today because of the Mexican situation was intensified by the reports from Colorado of fighting between strikers and the state militia.

Senator Kenyon presented a telegram from W. H. Rodgers and John Gay, president and secretary of the Iowa Miners' Union, to read:

"Striking miners, their wives and children murdered by coal guards at Ludlow. Miners' tent colony burned to ground and five men, four women and at least five children killed. In name of humanity and for preservation of our American liberties we urge and demand an American citizens that the federal government protect our fellow mine workers and their families in Colorado."

Sensors Clark and Warren said that they had also received many telegrams protesting against the conditions in Colorado and asked Senator Kenyon whether he had any plan to suggest for federal action. "I do not know what course to take," said Senator Kenyon.

Sensor Thomas said that he and Senator Blount had consulted with the Governor of Colorado, who expressed the hope that something would be done. "The conditions," he added, "seem to parallel some of the atrocities reported from Mexico."

In the House Chairman Foster of the committee which investigated the Colorado coal strike told of conditions in the strike zone. Representative Seldemridge, of Colorado, said that conditions were intolerable.

"Our state," he said, "has been left a legacy of death and bitter experience which has made its name a blinding and a byword as an arena of the most cruel and deplorable of industrial disputes."

Colorado Springs, April 22.—About three hundred union workers at the El Paso, Curtis, Patterson and other union mines quit to-day, saying they were going to the Trinidad district to fight the state militia. Many of the strikers carried revolvers. A number returned to their cottages for arms and appeared later carrying rifles and shotguns. Seventeen Greeks, all armed, are known to have taken a train for the South.

Pueblo, April 22.—The federal grand jury to-day returned indictments against eight striking miners on charges of attacking the postoffice at Higgins. The indictments resulted from the burning of the postoffice and temple of the Southwestern Mine, near Aguilar, several months ago.

Two militiamen were indicted—Fred Lee, on charges of breaking into the postoffice at Forbes and stealing 339 in stamps, and S. K. Friedman, on charges of stealing equipment of a United States Army soldier.

Denver, April 22.—The entire enlistment of state militia in Denver was ordered to mobilize at the two armories here to-night to await further orders for service in the Trinidad strike zone.

NO LET-UP ON BARNES

Anti-Saloon Man Calls Republican Leader's Statements False.

Binghamton, N. Y., April 22.—William H. Anderson, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York, addressing the temperance anniversary of the Wyoming annual Methodist Episcopal conference here to-day, referred to the libel suit of William Barnes, Jr., Republican State Chairman, against him.

"The allegation by Mr. Barnes," said Mr. Anderson, "that I asked him to pass our optional local prohibition bill is absolutely false. I asked him to prevent its being smothered in committee by representatives of his Albany County personal organization, who were in a position of commanding influence in the Assembly."

"The statement that I charged him with doing, or that I asked him to do, anything unlawful is equally untrue. Our fight on Mr. Barnes has just started, unless he gets out of our way or gets out of politics."

TO TEST MAHONEY'S SANITY

Court Appoints Board to Study Mayor's Assailant.

Judge Mulqueen, in General Sessions, yesterday appointed an insanity commission to investigate the mental condition of Michael P. Mahoney, who made an attack on Mayor Mitchell and Corporation Counsel Polk last week. The commission will probably pay its first visit to Mahoney to-day in the Tombs. It is composed of Dr. John B. Crosby, Phoenix Ingraham and James H. Hargerty.

When asked how he wished to plead to the indictment charging him with attempted murder in the first degree, Mahoney replied, "Guilty" before his counsel, Terence J. McManus, could interpose an objection. Mr. McManus then presented an affidavit to the court, in which he asked that an insanity commission be appointed.

DENIES WERNER HAS SEEN FIRST WIFE

Client Has Not Visited Mrs. Redding Since Divorce, Says His Lawyer.

Henry S. Dottenheim, of 15 William st., attorney for Arthur Werner, husband of the former Miss Giulia Morosini, followed by rumors of a breach of contract suit on account of an ante-nuptial agreement, denied yesterday that his client had seen his first wife, Mrs. Alice Redding Werner, since their divorce. Mrs. Alice Redding, as she is now known, lives at 838 West End ave.

"It is absolutely untrue," said the lawyer, "that Mr. Werner has been in communication with his first wife in any way, or that he has ever visited her at her apartment. After his separation from Mrs. Werner he lived first at the Hotel Knickerbocker, and later moved to escape the annoyances which followed the publicity given his affairs."

As exclusively stated in The Tribune Tuesday, preparations are being made to enforce the terms of a contract by which Mrs. Werner, then Miss Morosini, agreed, it is claimed, to pay her husband $10,000 a year for life.

Ready to Back Anti-Trust Bill.

Delegates representing more than 60,000 local retailers will meet to-morrow night in Aeolian Hall to register their approval of the clause in the administration anti-trust bill, now pending, which makes a misdemeanor of price discrimination. It is said that more than $300,000,000 in invested capital will be represented at the meeting.

SING SING FIRE FOLLOWS STRIKE

CONVICTS AROUSED OVER PAROLE VETO

Village Fire Fighters Refused
Admittance by Warden
Clancy's Order.

Another fire broke out in Sing Sing prison shortly after midnight this morning. The whole fire apparatus of the village was called and almost the entire body of inhabitants flocked to the walls as spectators.

On their arrival the village fire fighters were refused admittance by Warden Clancy.

The blaze was in the enamelling shop, connected with the wagon works in the northern part of the prison yard. The flames, which were discovered at 12:20 o'clock, had a serious hold before the firemen could get to work.

The shop had replaced one of the buildings destroyed in one of the four incendiary fires which consumed about $200,000 worth of state property last summer when Warden John S. Kennedy was removed and James M. Clancy became head of the prison.

It is believed that this morning's blaze was incendiary, too. Yesterday morning about 180 convicts struck work in the knitting shop. They remained on strike all day, but in the evening went to their cells, and it was supposed then that the trouble was over.

It is believed that there is a strong feeling among the convicts over Governor Glynn's refusal to sign the one-year parole bill. All the prisoners have been sullen in their behavior and it has been feared they were plotting something.

When the village firemen reached the scene Warden Clancy refused to let them go inside the prison walls, and they had to stand outside with their apparatus. The loss will be about $2,000.

The burned building was well stocked with combustibles. It contained a quantity of turpentine, oils and other inflammable stuff.

It is the opinion of some of the authorities that one of the strikers at the prison set the building on fire out of revenge.

WIFE PICKS JURY FOR GIBSON'S TRIAL

Sits in Back of Courtroom and Signals Approval by Nodding Her Head.

Burton W. Gibson, who has twice been tried for the murder of Mrs. Rosa Szabo, was yesterday placed on trial before Judge Swann in General Sessions, charged with grand larceny and forgery. There are five indictments pending against him arising from his connection with the estate of the woman, who was drowned in Greenwood Lake on July 16, 1912.

Eight jurors were picked on the first day of the trial. Edward Hynes, counsel for Gibson, was severely criticised by Judge Swann.

"Certain lawyers," said the judge, "come into court with the intention of deliberately insulting the judge so as to create an atmosphere in favor of their client. Your insults have been yelled, but they are very obvious."

When Mr. Hynes apologized for any action of his that might be construed by the court as an insult, he was told to proceed with the case after his own fashion and that such differences of opinion would be settled after the trial had ended.

In the back of the courtroom sat Mrs. Gibson, who was dressed in heavy mourning and who nodded her approval or disapproval of the jurors to her husband. It was upon her judgment that the jury so far has been chosen.

FLAG'S INSULTERS RESCUED FROM MOB

Crowd in Front of Tribune
Building Ready to Lynch
I. W. W. Orators.

NIGHTSTICKS USED TO BEAT BACK RUSH

"Becky" Edelson and Hartman Say
Banner Isn't Worth Fighting For—Both Arrested.

Members of the I. W. W. who denounced the American flag and arraigned the President because of the trouble in Mexico were saved from a mauling at the hands of a thousand or more who gathered around the Benjamin Franklin statue in front of the Tribune Building yesterday afternoon by the timely arrival of the reserves of the Oak st. station.

The meeting was held under the name of the "Anti-Militarist Conference," which has a following of persons who have been active in the I. W. W. movement. Its organization followed the meeting held at Carnegie Hall last Sunday night when Haywood attacked and decried patriotic ideals without stint.

"Becky" Edelson, whose activity at the Industrial Workers of the World headquarters in Union Square gave her notoriety some weeks ago, declared that the flag was not worth fighting for, and that the war in Mexico was the result of the spirit of jingoism which politicians and special interests have been endeavoring to evoke for months.

"It's all foolishness," she cried. "No body is fighting for the people, but just for those interests—Hearst, Guggenheim, Rockefeller and Carnegie."

Joers and hoots greeted her remarks, and she finally stepped down from the stone post from which she was speaking, calling to the crowd that she despised them all, and "would like to put some sense in their heads."

The next speaker was Samuel Hartman. He also shouted out that the flag was not worth fighting for, and that there was no such thing as a national flag. More jeers arose from the crowd, and it was not until a red-headed youth, who said his name was "Willie" Fitzgerald, of 137 Broadway, Brooklyn, and announced that he had served in the United States Navy, got to the side of Hartman, that the spectators became quiet. Fitzgerald challenged Hartman to produce his citizenship papers.

A concerted attempt was then made by the crowd to break through the police line, which had been formed between the crowd and the speakers, but the onrushers were driven back by policemen who used their nightsticks.

During the disturbance, such remarks as "Kill the Reds!" "Lynch Them!" were heard.

The meeting finally broke up when "Becky" Edelson and Hartman were arrested by Captain Mahoney, of the Oak st. station. Several hundreds followed Hartman to the station. On the way dejected fruit was thrown at him. The Edelson girl continued her speechmaking and fought a six-foot patrolman who held her so fiercely that the patrol wagon was sent for.

Both prisoners were charged with disorderly conduct and were later arraigned in the Tombs police court. Justice Sheffield, who represented the members of the I. W. W. who were arrested during the unemployed movement a few weeks ago, defended them. Magistrate Simms paroled the prisoners until to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

LINTON GETS OFF EASILY

Judge Suspends Sentence on Real Estate Operator

John F. Linton, president of several real estate companies, who was found guilty on March 4 of petit larceny and receiving money under false pretenses, received a suspended sentence in the Richmond County Court of Special Sessions yesterday.

Robert L. Shields, of Post avenue, West Brighton, Staten Island, complained that he invested $106 in a real estate scheme, and that later, when he wanted his money back, Linton failed to return it, although he had promised to do so. It was said yesterday that Linton had paid back money received from Shields and several others.

August Belmont yesterday received a cablegram from Paris which showed that his confidence in Paul Schmitt, to whom he furnished the money necessary to build an aeroplane of new design, was not misplaced. The text of the message followed: "Garali, with a Schmitt aeroplane, carrying six passengers, covered to-day 107 kilometers, thereby beating twenty-seven world's records as to speed, duration and distance."

This means that six passengers were carried a distance of 695 miles in one hour.

SCARED BY CHICKENPOX

City Lodging House Scene of Vaccination Activity.

The Department of Health pursued its vaccination crusade early yesterday morning with such a vengeance that more than eight hundred persons in the Municipal Lodging House were inoculated in the space of a few hours. Besides sore arms, these persons may be in mind to-day, for it was a case of chickenpox and not smallpox that resulted in the wholesale scheme of preventive measures.

Albert Hensfield, a sailor, appeared at the lodging house. It wasn't long afterward before the vaccination was busy. Eventually the tar landed at the Kingston Avenue Hospital. Not until some time yesterday morning was the case diagnosed as chickenpox.
